

WRECKED IN DRIFTS OF FRIGID SNOW

TRAIN ON THE ST. PAUL ROAD DERAILED.

Engineers and Firemen Severely Bruised and Engines Damaged—A Long Tramp Through the Snow for a Wrecking Crew—Passengers Rescued by Farmers.

Portage, Wis., Feb. 21.—The Horicon and Portage passenger train was wrecked a mile east of Fox Lake Junction yesterday morning. Both engines left the rails in a big snow drift and tipped over. Engineers and firemen saved themselves by jumping. There were many narrow escapes and bruises, but no one was seriously hurt.

Fox Lake, Wis., Feb. 21.—A wreck of the passenger train running between Portage and Horicon occurred between this place and Beaver Dam about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, it being the first train through since the storm. Two engines were pulling it with Engineer A. Race on the first engine. The indications are that the snow plow attached to the forward engine dropped down and caught in the ties, throwing the engine from the track, the second engine following, throwing the tender on one side of the track and the engine and cab on the other. The first engine was totally destroyed. Engineer A. Race was the first to get free from the wreck and he then liberated his fireman who was pinned down by the seat box. The engineers and firemen of both engines escaped with few cuts and bruises.

One of the passengers got a horse of a farmer and brought the news to this city. Many citizens drove down with teams and the passengers were brought to this place. Dr. G. W. Luck was one of the first at the wreck and attended the injured. Conductor G. Duesbury walked to Beaver Dam and telegraphed for a wrecking train.

Wisconsin News in Brief.

Ira Morehouse and William Rafferty the two young Portage boys who went to see the capital, are under arrest for the second time at Madison. A house in South Madison was broken into and the boys were arrested on suspicion. Several articles taken from both houses were found on them.

John Beahm, a farmer, was thrown from his cutter on Fox Lake and lost his way. A neighbor found the team and searching parties found Beahm nearly dead from the cold, lying behind a fish house. He is in a critical condition.

The heavy snow has greatly relieved loggers in the northern part of the state, as they will now be able to bank all the logs wanted. The thaw a couple of weeks ago almost put an end to logging operations.

A. Kanoek, of Racine, was dangerously injured Saturday by a Chicago & Northwestern train. The storm was so blinding that he failed to see the train and drove onto the track ahead of it.

A logging train on the St. Paul road near Pembine was wrecked by the chains on the first car breaking, allowing the logs to fall on the track. Fourteen cars went into the ditch. No one was injured.

Policeman Edward Regan of Stevens Point, was pushed over a banister to the pavement twenty-five feet below, while attempting to arrest Patrick Redden. Regan received some severe sprains.

A business men's association has been organized at Shell Lake with Judge L. H. Mead as president. The association will try to have Shell Lake incorporated.

Charles W. Rock, proprietor of the Pennsylvania House at Racine, is under arrest in that city, charged with assaulting John Waters. Waters is in a critical condition.

HAS SCORED A SUCCESS

Janeville Man Who Has Won Laurels Upon the Mimic Stage.

Clarence E. Burdick of this city, whose stage name is Earl Doty, has arrived home for a short visit after a successful tour of the west with his own theatrical company. He is accompanied by his wife.

Mr. Burdick has been playing "Faust" and nothing but "Faust" and that his work in this difficult play has been of a high character one may easily judge from the excellent press notices he has received in nearly every city that he visited. At Peoria, Ill., they played to one of the banner houses of the season, the receipts being between five and six hundred dollars. Next month Mr. and Mrs. Burdick will meet their company and make a tour of Iowa.

KAUKAUNA STRICKEN BY FIRE

Business Block and Hotel Destroyed by a Heavy Loss.

Kaukauna, Wis., Feb. 22.—On Sunday morning the Finnegan block and Gates House in this place were wholly destroyed by fire. Nothing was saved from the Finnegan building. The stock was valued at $10,000, on which was $7,000 insurance. The building was owned by Morgan Bros. of Oshkosh and cost when built six years ago $17,000. They carried an insurance of $8,000.

The Gates House, owned by Capt. Gates, was valued at $2,000, on which was $800 insurance. O. A. Cole, lessee, lost about $1,200. He had no insurance.

HAD A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

Three Fishermen, Lost in the Storm, Found in a Pitiable Condition.

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 22.—The three Menominee fishermen who were lost in the blizzard on Green Bay Saturday night were found by a Door county farmer this morning wrapped in the sails of their fishing sleighs and nearly dead. They were brought home. Their names are John Swanson, Eric Anderson and Gus Thorenson. Nine other fishermen are supposed to have perished, and searching crews are now out. The storm has been the worst in ten years. Street travel has been almost impossible for two days owing to the big snow drifts.

NOT A FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Madison's Recent Social Function Cost Its Promoters Money.

In spite of the fact that Janesville was well represented at the "junior prom" party at Madison Friday night, the management reports a loss on the whole affair of about $100. This is due to several causes; the attendance was not as large as usual and the decorations were more expensive. The 2,400 yards of red and white bunting used in covering the walls and ceilings were rented in New York and shipped to Madison.

BATHS ARE OUT OF ORDER

The Y. M. C. A. Cleansing Department Requires Some Tinkering.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. will have to postpone their regular baths for a few days to come, or at least until Assistant Secretary Atkinson can have the fire pot of the water heating apparatus repaired. It is now out of repair, and all baths are off. This delay will cause much inconvenience, which one fully realizes when it is taken into consideration that several hundred baths are given there every month.

REFORMING THE STATE TAX SYSTEM

WORK OF COMMISSION BEGUN AT MADISON.

Proposed Reforms That Will Result in the Equalization of Taxation Throughout the Commonwealth—Will Be a Gigantic Undertaking.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—Members of the tax commission created by the last legislature are now here and have entered actively upon their labors. The commission consists of Burr W. Jones, of Madison, K. K. Kennan, of Milwaukee, who is a cousin of the celebrated Siberian traveler, and George Curtis, Jr., of Merrill. The work done so far has been mostly under the supervision of Mr. Kennan who is a recognized tax expert employed by the Wisconsin Central company. Mr. Kennan, as soon as the commission organized devised an elaborate set of blanks to cover every known tax collected in counties, villages or cities. In the state there are over 1,200 taxing precincts, and to these Mr. Kennan sent requests for figures representing the different items of taxes in these districts. The commission is working entirely without compensation. It met a ready response from nearly all of the 1,200 districts, but there were a few where the commission will have to do the work itself. The vast array of figures which the commission will have before it when it comes to making up its report can easily be imagined when the number of districts is considered and there are from twenty to thirty items in each district.

The commission's labors in Madison at this time are in the direction of the taxes collected by the state from various sources. They are also going over records for several years back, and the industrious manner in which they are pursuing the work shows that the report will be an exhaustive and thorough one. Inasmuch as the commission reports to the legislature at the next session it will be some time before any definite information is given out as to the reforms the commission will advocate. The importance of this work and its far-reaching results will probably not be realized by the people of the state for some time.

MISS WILLIARD'S SUCCESSOR

Mrs. Lillian Stevens of Maine Likely to Be Honored.

Just who will take the place of the late Francis E. Willard is at present a matter of much speculation. Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens is the woman who was picked by Miss Frances E. Willard to succeed her in the new presidency of the W. O. T. U. in case of her death while she was in office. Mrs. Stevens is from Maine. Her title is vice-president-at-large. She was elected to the office four years ago at the suggestion of Miss Willard, who insisted that provision should be made for an emergency like the present. Miss Willard has intrusted a great deal of the active work for many years to Mrs. Stevens, and she will step into the place with ample practical experience.

Happenings at Footville

Footville, Feb. 22.—One of the most successful functions ever given under the auspices of Footville society folks was a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lang on Thursday evening of last week. The menu was elaborate, and the viands were served in faultless style. The hostess was assisted at the table by Misses Callie Lauey and Myrtle Strang. After dinner the evening was spent in games, and it was a late hour when the guests said good night. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the occasion were: Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Lacey, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Snyder, Misses J. Silverthorn and O. Smiley, Messrs. J. J. Lugg and L. Silverthorn. The committee having in charge the patriotic entertainment to be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church have postponed it from Feb. 22 to March 4. The continued storm of the last two or three days has made the roads impassable for an audience to be present on the date named. The young people who make up the program have worked faithfully and when the entertainment shall be given it goes without saying that it will be an unqualified success. The editor-in-chief of the Phoenix, the new organ of the Janesville High School, is Ray Owen of this village. Mrs. Grantinger, of Evansville, was a recent guest of her mother, Mrs. Bailey. O. R. Vesper went to Eau Claire on Thursday as a delegate from the local chapter to the state convention of Epworth Leaguers. H. S. Stevens was seen on the street recently for the first time in many weeks. He has entirely recovered from a siege of typhoid fever.

"It was decided at a conference of the president and several cabinet officers," he continued, "that the Spanish government was bound to protect the vessel of a friendly nation in one of its harbors, and that if the Maine was destroyed by a submarine mine or torpedo, whether with the knowledge of the officials or not, that government must be responsible. IT CLEARED THE TRACKS

Efficient Work Performed by the Rotary Snow Plow on the Northwestern.

The working of a rotary snow plow in this section yesterday afternoon proved a strong drawing card, which fact was fully demonstrated when the monstrous machine from Wisconsin was put to work on the Northwestern road four miles south of this city. Several people from town went down on the train, while others drove over via the prairie road. Frank D. Kimball and U. C. McLean, who went over to witness the fun, say the sight was one worth going miles to see. At a slow rate of speed the plow crept through banks of snow eight feet high, throwing it 75 feet in the air. It kept this performance up for a distance of over a mile.

SUPERIOR WISCONSIN BUILDING STONE

GEOLOGICAL SURVEYS INDICATE AN ABUNDANCE.

Quarries Contain an Inexhaustible Supply of the Best Quality—Tests of Its Durability Are Highly Satisfactory to Builders.

A report of considerable importance to the building and quarrying interest of Wisconsin has been recently issued by the State Geological and Natural History survey. The particular field of the report was the building stone of the state. Elaborate tests are being made to determine the durability, strength, beauty and other qualities which make the stone taken from the quarries of Wisconsin valuable for building purposes. The work of preparing the report is being done by Assistant State Geologist E. R. Buckley, who spent five months last summer and fall, making a personal examination of the quarries of the state.

One result of Mr. Buckley's investigation was to bring out the fact that the wealth of building stone lying beneath the surface of the soil of Wisconsin has hardly been touched. The state possesses, Mr. Buckley says, an immense wealth of building material in the shape of fine stone as can be found in the world, and in the near future it will become more widely known and quarrying it will become an important industry. The building stone is widely distributed, nearly every section of the state being represented by one or more varieties. In the center and north of the state are found the igneous rocks, such as granite and porphyry. These varieties are widely distributed. Potsdam sandstone and Lake Superior brownstone are found chiefly in the cliffs along the south shore of Lake Superior, between Ashland and Superior. Lower magnesian limestone in limited quantities is found in the bluffs along the rivers in the southwestern section of the state. Well distributed through the south and central part is found the St. Peter's sandstone, which is of comparatively little value for building purposes, as it crumbles easily and decomposes when exposed to the elements. The Trenton limestone is quarried in considerable quantities in the east and southern counties both for local use and for shipping out of the state. This stone is much used for bridge construction, a large part of the stone used by the Northwestern road coming from the Duck Creek quarries. The Niagara limestone is found in large quantities along the Michigan shore from the end of Door county to the state line. This is said to be the best limestone for building purposes in the state, and is the stone most used for the manufacture of quick lime.

Early last fall a circular letter was sent to the quarry owners of the state, asking them to send samples of the stone in their quarries to be tested. Many of them, realizing the advertising advantages of having their quarries and their products described in the report, complied, but several quarry owners failed to furnish samples, and will owe the benefit they may have gained. Each quarry owner was asked to send his six cubes of stone, two inches in each dimension. These cubes are divided into groups for the tests to be applied. Two are taken for the first test, and after being dressed on two sides, so that these sides were perfectly parallel and smooth, they are baked in an oven heated to 120 degrees Centigrade, to remove the moisture. They are then soaked in distilled water in a vacuum, in order to ascertain the amount of water they will absorb. Before being soaked, and after being baked, they are weighed, and again after the soaking process is completed, the increased weight recording the weight of water each cube will take up.

After these tests the cubes are weighed in water to determine their specific gravity, and after being saturated in water are left out in the cold over night daily for several months to determine their ability to withstand the frost. After having been frozen and thawed, soaked and frozen again for a month or two they are again weighed to see how much stone has crumbled away under the action of the frost. The last and final test is the crushing of two of each set of cubes, to determine the power of the stone to endure tremendous pressure. The cube is placed in a powerful machine which gradually brings heavy pressure on it until it crumbles, the machine recording the exact amount of pressure required to accomplish this. Another test is the roasting of two fresh cubes in ovens heated as high as 600 to 1,500 Fahrenheit, to determine the degree of heat the stone will bear. This test is looked on as one of the most important, as it will serve to indicate the degree of heat at which any building built of some particular variety of stone will be likely to collapse with fire. Cubes selected from among the limestones and dolomite specimens will be subjected to the action of sulphurous and carbonic gases. These are the chief gases produced by burning coal, and are the gases which assail the stone in the city buildings. The scaling off noticed on the walls of stone buildings in cities is often due to the action of these produced in large quantities by the burning of such large quantities of coal, and by the tests which will be made the exact effect on the various kinds of stone, and the amount of scaling which will take place under the conditions prevailing in cities and places where coal is consumed in large quantities, can be learned. These are but a part of the series of tests to which the samples of stone will be subjected, but they serve to illustrate the scope of the work being done by the survey. The facts gathered will be all published, and will be of the greatest benefit to the stone interests of Wisconsin.

Why Many Handsome Masks Were Not Seen at the Ball.

Fred Lauterer, of Peoria, Ill., was the most disgusted man in town last evening. The bad train service during the day was to blame for it all.

Mr. Lauterer, who is one of the largest costumers in the west, left Peoria yesterday morning with trunks containing over ninety costumes, his intention being to reach here in time for the Concordia masquerade last evening. Soon after his arrival he received word that his trunks were on the Chicago passenger in a snow drift near Woodstock, Ill., and that the chances were in their favor of remaining there over night. And they did.

COUNCIL IS BALKED IN M'LELLAN CASE

INJUNCTION PREVENTS ACTION IN MATTER.

Charge Is Made That the Special Meeting Was Not Properly Called, and Was Therefore Illegal—Adjournment Makes It Still Binding—Sue the Bondsmen.

The common council was balked in the McLeellan matter again last night, an injunction being served to prevent the aldermen from taking action.

Attorney Wheeler was on hand to represent Mr. McLeellan, and just before the council was called to order, the injunction was served. Consequently the McLeellan matter was not touched upon. Later the council adjourned to meet again next Monday night—and as Monday night's meeting is a part of last night's meeting under the adjournment rule, the injunction will be just as binding as it is now unless it is dissolved in the meantime.

The injunction set forth the fact that the special meeting was not properly called, in that the notice of a special meeting was not served upon the aldermen until late in the afternoon; that at the opening of the meeting three members were absent; that subsequently and before the termination of the meeting one of the members came in, but that two members did not attend the meeting at all; that no reasonable and proper notice of said meeting was given to the persons composing the council of said city and that the meeting by reason thereof was illegal and the acts of the council thereat were illegal and void.

Other Allegations.

It further states that the meeting, was actually called for the sole purpose of acting upon a certain complaint made against the plaintiff for an alleged violation of his license, and that there was no other purpose in calling said special meeting, but no notice was given to the council of the purpose of the meeting and that it was the duty of the person calling the meeting to describe in the notice the extraordinary character of the business to be transacted; that the sole business transacted at the meeting was the consideration of the complaint against the plaintiff.

The plaintiff alleges that by reason of the failure to state in the notice of the meeting the nature of the business to be transacted the acts of the council were illegal and void.

The plaintiff further alleges that at said meeting the order was adopted providing that a summons be issued to this plaintiff to appear before the council on Feb. 21, 1898, at 8 o'clock, to show cause why the license issued to him should not be revoked, but said order has never been signed by the mayor or city clerk as provided by the charter.

No Summons Served

The plaintiff further alleges that on Feb. 15, 1898, there was delivered to him a paper, purporting to be a summons, but no notice has ever been served upon him setting forth the acts or omissions complained of, as provided by sub-division 7 of section 4 of chapter 4 of the charter of the city of Janesville and without the service of such notice the council has no authority to proceed to the hearing of such matter or to revoke the license of the plaintiff.

The plaintiff further alleges that he has no desire to continue in business against the objections of the council, provided an opportunity can be afforded him to dispose of his license and of his stock of liquors on hand; that he has a large and valuable stock of liquors and that in case his license is revoked he would be compelled and would sustain serious financial loss in disposing of the same; that he has offered to the license committee of the council to sell out his liquor business and requested the council to transfer his license and they refused to do so; that the members of the council threaten and say they will proceed to the hearing of the question of the revocation of the license, and that they intend to and will revoke his license and they will not allow him to transfer his license; that his offer to transfer his license was made in good faith and with the intention of retiring from the liquor business, and that he had a purchaser who was ready and willing to take his business, providing the council would transfer the license; and that the reason why the council refuses to transfer such license is that they intend to and will revoke his license and thereby forfeit to the city the unearned amount of such license money.

Will Pay Costs.

The plaintiff further alleges that refusal by the council to transfer the license is perverse and wilful, and that the members of the council, or certain of them, have determined in advance of such hearing that they will revoke the license; that in case the council revoke such license as they threaten to do the plaintiff will be obliged to immediately close his place of business and keep the same closed; that there is no adequate remedy at law by which proceedings of the council may be reviewed and the plaintiff be in the meantime permitted to continue his business; wherefore the plaintiff prays judgment that the acts of the council relating to the revocation of the license of the plaintiff be declared null and void; and that the council may be enjoined and restrained from proceeding further with said hearing to revoke such license and that they may be enjoined and restrained from revoking the license of the plaintiff and for such further relief as may be just and equitable.

Court Commissioner Carpenter or dered that the city be enjoined and restrained from proceeding further with the hearing to revoke the license of the plaintiff, and that the council be enjoined from taking any testimony whatever, under such proceedings, and that a written understanding be executed by said plaintiff without sureties, in the sum of $250 to the effect that the plaintiff will pay the defendant such damages not exceeding said sum as it may sustain by reason of the injunction if the court shall finally decide that the plaintiff is not entitled thereto.

Proceed Against Bondsmen.

While the injunction stopped all action on the matter of the revocation, other steps were taken.

Alderman Stoddard moved that the city attorney be instructed to proceed against McLeellan's bondsmen.

Alderman Rice seconded the motion and it was adopted—Aldermen Stoddard and Rice voting aye, and none of the aldermen voting nay.

McLeellan made application to transfer his license to James Smith, but the council refused to transfer.

Ludden & Kilmer's license was transferred to H. W. Bliss.

The finance committee reported favorably on a large number of bills and they were ordered paid.

Orders were adopted asking the city clerk to draw an order upon the city treasurer for the sum of $309.13, payable from the general fund to the order of J. J. Cunningham in payment of claim of Patrick Collins against the City of Janesville upon his delivering to the city an acquittance in full for said claim. Adopted.

Directing the city clerk to draw an order on the city treasurer, payable from the general fund in favor of A. L. Bemis, for $13.91, being the city, state and county tax on $600 illegally assessed to said Bemis for the year 1897.

Correct Another Mistake.

Also draw an order in favor of George G. Sutherland, trustee of the estate of Ward Witham for $178.45, being the city, state and county tax on $7,700 illegally assessed to said estate for the year 1897. Adopted.

Alderman Stoddard, from the license committee, moved that the city attorney commence an action against McLeellan's bondsmen for damages. Adopted; two ayes, no nays.

Alderman Burham moved that when the council adjourn it be to next Monday evening at half past seven o'clock to take up the matter of revoking the saloon license issued to Alexander McLeellan. Adopted.

RAILROAD STATION.

Planned For the Comfort and Convenience of the Traveling Public.
[Copyright, 1897, by George Palliser, 32 Park place, New York.]

The illustration here given shows the new depot building at Harriman, N. Y. The traveling public is entitled to every comfort and consideration, and the railroad company should throw in the art features of buildings and landscapes, giving the whole an air of cozy contentment and beauty which a few years ago was not dreamed of.

This station provides all possible conveniences and is well built in every respect. It rests on a pile foundation. The walls are of stone, faced with cut marble in irregular ashlar. The main part of the building is 21 feet wide and 48 feet long; the waiting room, 17 feet 6 inches by 27 feet 10 inches, 15 feet high; toilet rooms, 8 feet 10 inches by 9 feet, with best open, nickel plated plumbing; baggage room, 8 feet by 17 feet 6 inches. The interior finish is of quartered oak, with a wainscot the height of the doors and windows and a capping to finish over all at this point. Over this there is a frieze 5 feet 6 inches deep to the ceiling line. The frieze and edge about some four or five inches deep a round of blue linen. Sew both edges together and then paint or embroider some wild rose buds with their blossoms. The inner circle of blue should be loose so that the picture can be easily slipped in, being finished on the edge with a narrow buttonhole thick and evenly done.

The station is arranged so as to be heated by hot water or steam. Spring water is provided. The sewer connections are complete. Gas piped and fitted with fixtures, the finished building costs about $6,000 and is a model structure at a very economical price.

Whole Pea Soup.

Here is Good Housekeeping's recipe: A cupful of dried peas (not split), a quart of milk, butter the size of a walnut, pepper, salt. Soak the peas overnight in sufficient water to cover them well. In the morning cook until thoroughly soft and thickened, which will take several hours. When done, rub through a colander. Have the milk boiling hot and pour it gradually on to the pea pulp. Return to the fire and season with the butter, salt and pepper. If too thin, thicken with a little flour rubbed smooth in milk and let it boil up once. If the peas are freshly dried, this soup will be of a light green color and of delicious flavor. Serve with fried bread. Enough for six.

Britons in Paris Mourn.

Paris, Feb. 21.—It is a noteworthy fact that at all the English-speaking churches in Paris reference was made to the Maine disaster in the Sunday service. It was to be expected that the preachers at the two American churches would dwell on the catastrophe, but the unanimity with which the chaplains of the English churches took occasion to express sympathy merits remark.

Shot by Hidden Assassin.

Crescent City, Cal., Feb. 22.—While Thomas Van Pelt and two of his sons were walking along the road near their home in Curry county, Oregon, an unknown man fired a shot from the bushes, killing the elder Van Pelt instantly. ONE OF YOUR WANTS.

In Considering Your Needs Do Not Forget This.

If You Do You Will Make a Serious Mistake at This Season.

Something of Deep and Peculiar Interest Just Now.

There are many needs during the spring months, but none more necessary or urgent than the use of a spring medicine. The blood requires it, and the nerves, liver, kidneys and bowels must have it if you desire to keep strong and vigorous, and maintain your good health. Those who are weak, tired and nervous must take it, and those who do not feel just right should do so or serious ill health may follow.

Mrs. Charlie Martin, No. Calais, Vt., says: "About a year and a half ago I found myself completely run down. I would frequently be attacked with blind spells, and while the blind spells were on me, I would become quite numb. The first time I was attacked we lived in Nashua, and I had two spells in one night. These lasted me a short time each. My body prickled like a hand or foot asleep, and my hands would be as white as death and my feet were very cold. The nerves of my left hand were nearly paralyzed and at times I could not take up anything with that hand."

A friend recommended Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and gave me some to try, which I took, and found it did me so much good that I immediately procured three bottles of Nervura and took it. The result was that I was entirely cured of those bad spells and they have not returned. Oh, if I had only known of Dr. Greene's Nervura two years ago, it would have saved me lots of suffering and lots of money. I will cheerfully answer any inquiries about my case and request the publication of this letter for the good of others."

It is impossible to express the good which this wonderful medicine is doing for suffering humanity.

Dr. Greene, 148 State St., Chicago, Ill., can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

1896—Edgar Wilson Nye, the popular American humorist, died near Asheville, N. C.; born 1851. Ex-Governor George D. Robinson of Massachusetts died at Chicopee; born 1834.

SOME REPUBLICAN REFORMS.
The Appleton Post says: "And don't you forget it," when the next campaign opens, that among the achievements of the present republican legislature are the following:

Race track gambling suppressed.
The cigaret discouraged.
Medical quackery abolished.
$20,000 saved in capitol salaries.
Reformatory established.
Civil service in cities.
Caucuses supervised.
Corrupt practices checked.
Pullman and Wagner sleeping car companies made to pay about $9000 a year.
Historical library completed.
Full educational appropriations completed.
Deficit state financing and borrowing of corporations stopped.
Normal school extensions approved.
Telegraph, telephone and express companies forced to pay more into the state treasury.
Statutory revision provided for.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY.

The Waupun Times speaks of rural mail delivery as follows:

"The rural free delivery system which is urged upon congress, should be defeated. It will be of no benefit to the country people. From almost every family there has to some one, at least once, and frequently oftener, sent to the postoffice because it is located at the nearest village or store. The postoffice department would have to spend twenty or thirty millions to carry out this plan, and it only has one merit. It would place several thousand active political workers in the field to help the party in power to retain its hold."

MR. COOPER IS DESERVING.

Burlington Free Press—"Aspirants for congressional honors are already coming to the front. In this district no one has yet publicly announced an intention of seeking the nomination and it looks as though the present incumbent, Hon. H. A. Cooper, would again be given the honor of a renomination without opposition. It would certainly be due to him."

Under the present city charter, a property owner cannot be compelled to remove the snow from his sidewalk until twenty four hours after "due notice so to do has been given him—and yet this charter is supposed to regulate the conducting of the affairs of this good city peopled with civilized inhabitants!

The people who want Cuba recognized at once should not forget that discretion is the better part of valor. History quotes many cases where the peacemaker was the only man who got a black eye. Black eyes are not necessarily fatal, to be sure, but they are said to be exceedingly unpleasant.

Senator Mason says that people are losing confidence in the executive department of the government, but the idea that the people may also be losing confidence in Mason, does not seem to have struck him yet.

The champion liars of the universe seem to have been collected together and put to work as news correspondents at Havana and Key West.

"Be sure you're right, then go ahead," is President McKinley's motto and no man who followed that plan ever went wrong.

Every cloud has a silver lining. Spain has just ordered three million rifle cartridges from an American firm.

The police will make their initial appearance in uniform on Sunday.*

*May 15, 1898.

Speaking of aldermen who do not clean off their sidewalks, the charge is made that one democratic alderman, who is generally credited with an ambition to hold another city office when his term as a city father expires, has not cleaned off his walk this winter.

The rumor that the common council would revoke the license of one Alexander McLellan does not seem to have been well founded.

ONLY A PART OF A CHAIR

[By Mrs. M. M. Converse.]
Only a part of our grand old chair!
But Memory's magical wand
Restores it, as when he rested there,
And when, beside the dear old chair,
There were children, on either hand.

With a child upon the chair's broad arm,
And another on his broad knee,
He told them tales about the farm:
Stories of "bunnies"—their hearts to charm—
Or of squirrels up in a tree.

Or they took turns on his foot astride,
Trotting off to "Boston" for bread;
Or to "Banbury Cross" would swiftly ride.
Fall off quickly the chair beside,
When he said, "the old horse is dead!"

See! here is a hole worn smooth and round,
And deep in each arm of the chair,
Where "Grandpa" cracked the nuts he had found,
And gave them to wee ones standing 'round
And holding their hands for a share.

A touch of the wand; and in his chair
Sits "Grandpa," at close of the day;
Rocking and singing "The Bower of Prayer,"
"The Beautiful Valley," "The Manly Pair,"
"The Land of Delight" far away.

Only a part of an "old arm chair!"
But oh! how it brings back to me
My childhood's home, and the loved ones there.
But the home is gone, and the loved ones are Where?

"The King in His beauty," they see.

It Will Come Later.
"They must be very interesting," he said.
"What?" she asked.

"The sulphur mines," he explained.
"I would like to see one."

"There is time enough," she returned, pointedly. "Wait till you die."

He knew then that he would have been wise had he given her the money for the new bonnet that she wanted.—

Inhuman Treatment.
Black—Mrs. Greene accuses her husband of cruel and inhuman treatment.
Brown—That's right. It is a custom of his to get two or three of his coat buttons hanging and his vest badly soiled in front so that the women will think Mrs. Greene is to blame and talk about her awfully.—Boston Transcript.

Getting Close to It.
"Every failure," they say, "is a step toward success."
And the words made me feel cheerful-hearted;
For I must be a million miles nearer, I guess,
To the prize than I was when I started.

WHY HE WAS DEJECTED.

Holly—You seem out of spirits, old man!

Homer—Yes—not a drop left in the house.—N. Y. Times.

One of the Disadvantages.

Though "all things come to him that waits,"
It happens oft that he
Has ceased to want them long before
Within his reach they be.

SEPTICIDE

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED.

Here you have the evidence right at home from one of your own citizens.

"I wish I had a voice which could be heard throughout the length and breadth of this continent, that I might speak to the army of sufferers who are being tortured by the disease with which I have been afflicted for years. I have been an intense sufferer for several years, and everyone who has had that disease knows the extreme agony I must have endured. I chafe, burning, scratching, digging and loss of sleep has been my deplorable condition. Four of our best physicians had exhausted their energies on my case, without even giving me relief. Oh, what a godsend to me when one of our druggists called my attention to that wonderful remedy Septicide, and assured me that it would do what skillful hands had completely failed in doing. Suffice it to say that two bottles cured me completely, so there is no return of this dreadful complaint.

Some of Those Will Read Essays and Deliver Addresses—Hints to Intended Exhibitors—The Cooking School and Other Attractions.

The closing season of the Wisconsin State Farmers' Institute will be held in this city on March 8, 9 and 10 under the direction of George McKerrrow. Prizes amounting to $2,500 are offered and arrangements have been made for the entertainment of a larger number of delegates and visitors than ever before. The first day's session will convene in the court house; the meetings on the second and third days will be held at the Myers Grand opera house, where there is ample room for the accommodation of 1200 people. The Midwinter Fair will be held in connection with the institute at the skating rink on River street, where the floor space for exhibits is ample for all requirements. All entries must be made on or before Monday, March 7, and exhibits must be in place by noon of Tuesday.

One of the noticeable features of previous exhibitions has been the cooking school. This will receive particular attention at the coming fair, three afternoon sessions being planned, all under the direction of the most experienced teachers in the state.

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR

The great heart of the city is burdened with sorrow at the death of Frances Willard. Not being advised of what action, if any, the ladies of the "White Ribbon" are taking in regard to the death of their chief, I hereby order that the flags on all public buildings of the city will be developed at half mast on Thursday the 24th inst from 10 a. m. until sundown of that day as a token of our sorrow for the illustrious dead. All organizations and citizens having facilities so to do are respectively requested to join in the sad testimonial. Respectfully,

JOHN TROUBADOUR,

Mayor.

BIG COTTON STRIKE
BOOMS OUR MILLSJANESVILLE COTTON COMPANY
MUCH PLEASED.

Lower Mill at Monterey Is Now Running in Full Blast—Last Week Was One of the Busiest in Its History—May Open the Upper Mill.

The shutting down of the great cotton mills of the east has had the desired effect on the Janesville Cotton company. It has boomed business at the local factories as it has not been boomed before in years. True, the mill of the Janesville Cotton company on North Franklin street, is at present silent, but this condition of affairs will not continue any great length of time if the strike in the east keeps up much longer.

Running Full Time.

The Monterey mill of the Janesville Cotton Company is now running every department at full blast, but in spite of this fact the managers are unable to supply the present demand for four yard goods which is coming in from all sections of the country. At the Monterey mill one hundred and forty hands are now given employment six days in the week at a daily working average of eleven and one-half hours. Last week every department in the mill was run with a full force, and so great were the incoming orders that the mill managed to turn out in the neighborhood of 85,000 yards of cloth. This is one of the largest weeks' business ever known in the history of the lower mill. Plenty of water power is now available and if present signs do not fail this mill will run throughout the coming summer months.

The Strike Responsible

"We attribute this entire boom in business affairs to the great strike that is now going on in the great cotton mills of the east," said a prominent stockholder this afternoon, "and if the strike in the east continues to hang fire much longer it will mean much to Janesville. The lower mill at Monterey could not turn out another yard of cloth unless it ran all night, and before the directors and stockholders decided to do that I believe they would first agree on the opening of the large mill on North Franklin street."

Secretary William G. Heller, of the Janesville Cotton Company, stated this afternoon that he had not as yet been informed by those in a position to know, of any definite move to start the upper mill.

NEWS FROM MILTON TOWN

Items of Interest Gathered by The Gazette Correspondent.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY, W. W. CLARKE, Manager, MILTON, Wis., Feb. 22, 1898.

Whitewater papers are exuberant over the fact that fifteen carloads of out freight were shipped from that station last week, which, by the way, is not an uncommon event here, despite the fact that Whitewater boasts of a population six times greater than Milton. Shipments from here since our last include four cars of live hogs by Vincent & Hassenger, one of hogs by G. B. Fetherston, two of sheep by J. C. Wixom, six of tobacco by Soverhill & Porter, three of tobacco by J. L. and M. F. Green, one of tobacco by R. Home, one of hay by G. R. Fetherston, two of oats and one of corn by J. S. Fetherston. Car loads freight received: Eight of tobacco by Soverhill & Porter, two of coal and one of lumber by T. A. Saunders, two of bran by J. S. Fetherston, and one of coal by H. Godfrey.

The live hog market had its ups and downs last week, but at the close of the week was firmer, and local buyers paid as high as $3.90. Farmers are holding their hogs at four cents, and it is difficult for buyers to do business at a less figure, but the present outlook indicates that the four dollar mark is near at hand and will be reached in this market the present week.

The citizens of this village are entitled to credit for the prompt manner in which they remove snow from their sidewalks, but there is here and there an individual who ought to be dragged through the drifts that he allows to remain on his walk.

Despite the big snow storm the mail trains on this division of the St. Paul road were but little behind time Monday, but all freights were abandoned. A continuous snow storm for two days is rather uncommon in this region, but that is what we got Saturday and Sunday and a gale to accompany it.

Farmers report the east and west roads full to the fence tops, and they are obliged to turn out into the fields in many places.

Mrs. J. B. Borden has returned from Marshfield and expresses herself very much pleased with the city and its people.

W. P. Marquart sold thirty hogs Saturday to Vincent & Hassenger, for which he received a better figure than $3.90.

Soverhill & Porter did not open their warehouse Monday but expect to begin work today or tomorrow.

Rev. I. S. Eldridge, of Pewaukee, was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. McGowan, Tuesday.

Henry Bohne has bought a farm at Albion. He will also run the farm where he now lives.

Orson Stillman, of Lodi, visited his parents, Justice B. H. Stillman and wife, this week.

The snow shoveling brigade is again in the employ of the St. Paul road at $1.10 per day.

W. H. Borden, M. D. spent Sunday and Monday at Lake Geneva visiting Dr. Catlin.

Different Foods Make Different People

The kind of food one eats and the liquor one drinks has much to do in determining how much of health and strength may be depended upon to carry out life's work. True, the quality of the mind greatly affects the body, and on the other hand the reflexes from an ill-fed body seem to affect the mind.

Well selected food is of the utmost importance to brain workers and highly organized men and women. We are apt to eat and drink almost anything that looks and tastes good, and afterwards wonder why our brains do not earn as much as some friends whom we have in mind. Our physical systems are all a trifle dissimilar, and when one finds that he is not keeping up to par, a close inspection of what is being put into the stomach is wise.

Many people are slowly, but very surely, injured and their lives cut short by the daily use of the narcotic drug, coffee. "Nonsense," some one says. It is easy to say nonsense when one does not have access to chemical research and scientific data. Facts are exceedingly stubborn things, more so than stubborn people are. We are who cry out because some favorite drug cannot stand in a favorable light under the careful search of chemical analysis.

The stubborn facts about coffee will make themselves felt after the stubbornness of unfortunate users has been broken down.

Health, longevity, the power to do things, and peace with the nervous system, are the things that weigh many times more than the indulgence in a cup of coffee. It is easy for one to slide off from the coffee habit when Postum Food Coffee is used, particularly if it be well boiled, for then the fragrance and taste of coffee is brought out of the Food Coffee and it is really delicious. Chemistry shows that it contains about 80 per cent of food elements necessary for rebuilding the brain and nerve centers.

LATE SNOW STORM
PROVES EXPENSIVETOO MUCH SNOW BURDENS
THE TAXPAYERS

Street Commissioner Palmer Says That Sunday's Storm Will Mean a Cost to the City of $300—Fifty Men at Work Yesterday—Traffic Resumed

Sunday's severe snow storm will cost the taxpayers of the City of Janesville $300. Street Commissioner George Palmer says that after giving the matter his closest attention he believes this is placing the figures at a low estimate. The street work that was made necessary by the storm of but two weeks ago, and which cost the city about $200 will now have to be all gone over again just as if no attempt was ever made to remove the snow.

Clearing Away the Snow.

All day yesterday a force of fifty men were kept at work removing the snow from the business streets with the aid of two teams attached to snow plows. On Main and Milwaukee streets the greater portion of the snow was scraped upon the Milwaukee street bridge, where it was quickly shoveled into the river. Today a much smaller force was at work on West Milwaukee and North River streets removing the large drifts from the side of the streets to the center. The numerous gutters in the business, as well as a portion of the residence section of the city, will have to be cleared this week of all snow and ice, which will give employment to a large force of men.

Railroad Traffic Resumed

Traffic on both the local railroads was resumed this morning but judging from the "snow stories" that were in circulation in the local yards today there is little doubt but what the storm of Sunday, Feb. 20, 1898, will be remembered by the railroad boys as a record breaker for some time to come. All passenger trains on both roads were on time today but freights were not so fortunate. But few made any attempt to run without the aid of two engines and even then they failed to make regular running time. Local merchants say that but few farmers have been able to reach town since the Sunday storm who reside away from the city for a distance of six miles or more. Grain and live stock buyers say they are unable to get of the farmers what they purchased last week.

Notice.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Janesville Street Railway Co. will be held in the council chamber, city of Janesville, on Monday, Feb. 28, at 2 o'clock, to elect a board of directors for the ensuing year.

STATEMENT IS DISCREDITED.

London Newspapers Call Attention to Contradiction and Informality of the Denial—Chamberlain Has Received Dispatches from Africa.

Paris, Feb. 22.—A semi-official note was issued Monday, denying that the French forces have invaded Sokoto. It declares that the story to that effect is merely the repetition of a rumor that has already been contradicted.

A statement earlier in the day said the government had no news that the French forces had crossed the Niger into Sokoto, and that any such unauthorized movement would be disavowed.

TIMES IS APPREHENSIVE.

"Thunderer" Fears Breach of Friendly Relations.

London, Feb. 22.—The morning papers are puzzled to reconcile the telegram read by Mr. Chamberlain in the house of commons from the commandant at Lokoja, with the semi-official dispatch issued in Paris. The Times, referring to the former, says:

"Statements of this kind are not lightly made by responsible British officers, nor made in public without good cause by British statesmen. Should the denial in the French note prove well founded the people of this country will experience a profound and genuine feeling of relief, but at present they will not be disposed to place much faith in this ambiguous declaration, conveyed through an informal channel.

"It would be foolish to ignore the elements of danger which undoubtedly exist. Hardly anything could cause us as a nation greater pain than a breach of the peaceful relations so long maintained with our French neighbors, but we cannot allow our plain rights to be overridden. Among our plain rights, by the unanimous judgment of the nation, are our rights to the territory which French officers are said now to have invaded.

"There can be no doubt that the government is fully alive to the import of the intelligence from Lokoja, and to the extreme gravity of the situation that must arise if the French government does not offer immediately comprehensive and satisfactory assurances in respect thereto.

A dispatch from Paris to the Chronicle says it is learned that outside events have not raised the temperature of the discussions of the West African commission.

The French maps undoubtedly represent Sokoto as English, and there is reason to believe that M. Hanotaux, minister of foreign affairs, does not dispute the ownership.

It is understood that a quiet intimation will shortly be given to the French detachments in that part of Africa to avoid certain territories, on which it appears they have trespassed.

Chamberlain Answers Questions.

London, Feb. 22.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain said in the house of commons, in answer to questions, that he had received a dispatch from Lieut. Pilcher, commanding at Lokoja, stating that he had received information that four French officers, with 100 men, had arrived at Arkingu, on the Sokoto river, and within the British sphere of influence. Mr. Chamberlain added:

"I cannot believe that, pending the negotiations, the French government can have authorized this invasion of territory, over which our rights have been recognized by the convention between Great Britain and France."

Trains Blocked by Drifts.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 22.—The blockade caused by the blizzard has not been raised completely as yet. Many of the trains are still blocked, and it will be several days before the traffic on the roads is in a normal state. All the railroad officials report that this was the severest storm which they have had to fight in years. It will be some days before freight trains can move regularly. Wrecks in snowbanks are reported at Beaver Dam and Fox Lake.

Iowa's State Debt Piling Up.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 22.—Senator Funk, chairman of the senate committee on ways and means, said that Feb. 1 the Iowa state debt exceeded $700,000. The last statement made public by State Auditor McCarthy gave the debt at $472,000. It was known that the debt had increased about $100,000 since then, but the fact that it has crept up to over $700,000 is startling. Senator Funk declined to talk further regarding the matter.

Troops to Guard Turnpikes.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 22.—Gov. Bradley has ordered twenty-eight soldiers, under command of Capt. Wilson, of Lexington, to proceed at once to Jessamine county to be stationed in squads of six at the tollgates along the Danville, Lancaster and Nicholasville turnpike. They were ordered to repel all raids and collect tolls.

Government at Madrid to Be Notified That This Country Is Willing to Aid in Gaining Peace—Inquiry Into the Maine Disaster Has Begun.

Washington, Feb. 22.—A sweeping reduction of over $8,000,000 from the amount carried by the current law is made in the sundry civil appropriation bill, reported to the house Monday, the aggregate appropriation carried being $44,749,893. The total is $13,234,541 less than the regular and supplemental official estimate made for the fiscal year 1899 and $8,861,890 less than the appropriations made for the current fiscal year.

The bill imposes a number of new limitations and places all courthouses, customhouses, postoffices, appraisers' stores, barge offices, sub-treasuries and public buildings heretofore erected or purchased, being constructed, or hereafter erected or purchased out of any appropriation under the control of the treasury, together with the sites, under the exclusive jurisdiction and control and in the custody of the secretary of the treasury. It repeals the requirement that in the settlement of claims for pay, bounty, prize money or other moneys due private soldiers, sailors or marines or their representatives, the allowance for attorney fees be stated in a separate certificate. It limits the expenditure for the erection of barracks and quarters for artillery, in connection with the project adopted for seacoast defense at any point, to $50,000 for a one-battery post and $25,000 additional for each additional battery from any appropriation unless special authority of congress be granted.

For arsenals and armories $193,375 is appropriated, an increase of $54,765 from the current year; for military posts, $420,000 (estimates called for $2,000,000); work on rivers and harbors under authorized contracts, $13,210,613, a reduction of $5,357,899; survey of deep waterways between the great lakes and the Atlantic ocean, $225,000, an increase of $75,000; public buildings, $3,132,800, a reduction of $1,191,994; for the lighthouse establishment, $3,006,000, an increase of $112,400; for the Paris exposition, $100,000, and for national soldiers' homes, $2,819,531, an increase of $253,000 over the current law.

Life-saving service, $1,593,075; light-house beacons and fog signals, $154,000, a reduction of $232,140; revenue-cutter service, $1,100,000; to enforce the Chinese exclusion act, $100,000; surveying public lands, $325,000; for expenses of collecting revenue from public land sales, $827,000, including a new item of $75,000 to protect and administer forest reserves; expenses of United States courts, $4,846,012, a reduction of $500,000 from the current law; suppressing counterfeiting and other crimes, back pay and bounty claims, certified by the treasury to be due, $524,000.

For river and harbor improvements $18,093,007 was asked. The bill fixes $13,210,613 for this work.

The appropriations for public buildings, including marine hospitals and quarantine stations, aggregate $2,132,800 (recommended $3,415,272), a reduction of $1,191,994 from the current law. An increase of $25,000 is made to the general appropriation for coast survey work on account of the work to be made in Alaska. An appropriation of $50,000 is made for completing the coast survey steamer for service in Alaska and Aleutian islands, and $30,000 for the outfit. The appropriation for quarantine service is increased $13,000, and the president is authorized in case of a threatened or actual epidemic to use the unexpended balance of the various sums appropriated heretofore to prevent the spread of epidemics in the enforcement of such quarantine laws as may be in force.

The total expenses of the United States for all purposes incident to the Paris exposition are limited to $520,000.

House Resolution Accepted.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The joint resolution providing for the recovery of the bodies of officers and men from the Maine and for the recovery of valuable property on the ship, which was passed by the house last week, was presented to the senate and passed immediately. It carries an appropriation of $200,000.

It is stated that it will be the policy of the house leaders to prevent, as far as possible, any agitation of matters relating to Cuba or the Maine disaster in the immediate future. Pending the result of the official investigation they believe it is the part of good public policy to maintain silence.

A JOYFUL MOTHER OF CHILDREN.

Mrs. Pinkham Declares that in the Light of Modern Science no Woman Need Despair.

There are many curable causes for sterility in women. One of the most common is general debility, accompanied by a peculiar condition of the blood.

Care and tonic treatment of the female organs relieve more cases of supposed incurable barrenness than any other known method. This is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has effected so many cures; its tonic properties are directed especially to the nerves which supply the uterine system. Among other causes for sterility or barrenness are displacements of the womb. These displacements are caused by lack of strength in the ligaments supporting the womb and the ovaries; restore these, and the difficulty ceases. Here, again, the Vegetable Compound works wonders. See Mrs. Lytle's letter, which follows in this column. Go to the root of the matter, restore the strength of the nerves and the tone of the parts, and nature will do the rest. Nature has no better ally than this Compound, made of her own healing and restoring herbs.

Write freely and fully to Mrs. Pinkham. Her address is Lynn, Mass. She will tell you, free of charge, the cause of your trouble and what course to take. Believe me, under right conditions, you have a fair chance to become the joyful mother of children. The woman whose letter is here published certainly thinks so:

"I am more than proud of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and cannot find words to express the good it has done me. I was troubled very badly with the leucorrhoea and severe womb pains. From the time I was married, in 1882, until last year, I was under the doctor's care. We had no children. I have had nearly every doctor in Jersey City, and have been to Belvin Hospital, but all to no avail. I saw Mrs. Pinkham's advertisement in the paper, and have used five bottles of her medicine. It has done more for me than all the doctors I ever had. It has stopped my pains and has brought me a fine little girl. I have been well ever since my baby was born. I heartily recommend Mrs. Pinkham's medicine to all women suffering from sterility."—Mrs. LUCY LYTLE, 255 Henderson St., Jersey City, N. J.

NEWS FROM THE MORNING PAPERS

Washington, Feb. 22.—President McKinley is preparing to move upon Spain. Within sixty days he will present to the Madrid government a demand that the war in Cuba be stopped. This demand has been already decided upon, but the terms in which it is to be expressed will not be arranged till after the Maine incident is cleared up and the Spanish note now in transit to this country has been received.

The demand which the President has resolved to make of Spain does not mean war, necessarily, but it does mean peace in Cuba and a cessation of the horrors of the situation now existing in that island. It may bring on a critical situation, but probably no hostilities.

The President will point out to Spain that the situation in Cuba is intolerable to the United States; that there are no signs of a settlement by Spain alone; that as matters now look the war is likely to go on indefinitely; that this government has waited patiently for the experiment of a new administration and a new policy in Cuba, but that no good appears to have come from them; that autonomy is a failure, and that neither from the civil nor military point of view has Gen. Blanco achieved a success; that many thousands of people are starving, with no prospect of an amelioration of their condition.

The President will inform Spain, in respectful but firm language, that the United States has discharged all the obligations of a neutral; that this government has exercised extraordinary patience; that we have suffered loss of commerce, of the capital of our citizens, of the peace of mind of our whole community. He will declare that our patience is exhausted, and that the time has come for a solution of the vexing problem, involving the welfare of two great nations and the very existence of a million and a half of people.

The president will inform Spain that the United States is willing to assist in restoring peace to the unhappy island; that this government, meeting its responsibilities to its own people and to humanity, insists upon a settlement at once. The United States will join Spain in the creation of an international commission to visit Cuba, treat with the insurgents and devise a solution. The president may mention, as one possible means of settlement, the surrender of Cuba by Spain for a large money indemnity, the United States to guarantee the payment of the bonds, this government holding control of the Cuban customs meanwhile for security.

More important than anything else is that Spain accept the proffer of the United States for a peaceful and equitable settlement of the problem, with immediate cessation of hostilities. In other words, the president will insist upon regarding Cuba as a bankrupt estate which Spain is no longer competent to administer, and of which the United States, as a neutral, wishes to be appointed receiver. Such method of reaching a solution need not involve total loss for Spain. To the contrary, her equity, whatever it may be, will be respected and satisfied.

SPANISH NEWSPAPER ALARMED.

The Imparcial Tells of Preparations for War in the United States.

Madrid, Feb. 22.—An official agency says the Imparcial publishes a dispatch for which it must assume full responsibility, as it does not accord with the relations actually known to exist between the Spanish and American governments. It is dated from New York and reads: "Great military preparations are being made. The forts are being re-enforced. Three hundred artillerymen have been sent to Sandy Hook, and the naval reserves have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness. The gun-cotton and smokeless powder factories are working night and day, and it is generally believed that a great crisis in the re-

IS IT CURABLE?

A Question Often Asked by Those Afflicted With Piles.

Is a strained joint curable? Is local inflammation curable? Of course, if properly treated. So is piles.

People often become afflicted with piles and ask some old "chronic" who has always persisted in the wrong treatment and naturally he discourages them by telling them that their case is hopeless.

They in turn discourage others, and thus a disease that can in every case be cured by careful and skillful handling is allowed to sap the energy of thousands who might free themselves of the trouble in a few days.

Pyramid Pile Cure will cure the most aggravated case of hemorrhoids in an astonishingly short time. It relieves the congested parts, reduces the tumors instantly no matter how large, allays the inflammation and stops the itching or itching at once.

Thousands who had resorted to expensive surgical treatment have been cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure—in a number of instances persons who had spent months in a hospital under a pile specialist.

It is a remedy that none need fear to apply even to the most aggravated, swollen and inflamed hemorrhoidal tumors.

If you are afflicted with this stubborn disease you can master it and master it quickly.

This remedy is no longer an experiment, but a medical certainty. It is manufactured by the Pyramid Drug Co., of Marshall, Mich.

Druggists sell it at 50 cents per box. It is becoming the most popular pile cure this country has ever known and druggists everywhere are ordering it for their customers.

lations between the United States and Spain is imminent."

Senor Sagasta, the premier, says the reports of divers, which have been since confirmed, prove that the disaster to the Maine was the result of an accident.

INQUIRY IS BEGUN.

Naval Board Starts Its Investigation at Havana.

Havana, Feb. 22.—Capt. Sampson and his associates of the naval board of inquiry have begun at Havana their investigation into the Maine disaster.

Capt. Sigbee of the Maine announces that the naval board has decided to observe strict secrecy on the testimony before it.

Divers have discovered an exploded cylinder, which apparently indicated that the Maine's magazine for fixed ammunition exploded. Naval experts in Washington say that if so it explains the second explosion, and that it was caused by concussion.

Building Many Warships.

London, Feb. 22.—Six armored vessels, six protected cruisers, thirteen torpedo boat destroyers and five torpedo boats are now building in Great Britain for foreign governments, of which a number are purchasable, although Japan is supposed to have an option on several of them. The warships which have been ordered for South American governments are considered as being for sale to the highest bidders. Thomson Bros. inform the Associated Press that Spain has arranged to man the two remaining destroyers of the four completed some time ago at the Clyde bank yards, but not delivered, presumably owing to lack of payments.

Defense Guns at Portland.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 22.—Two coast defense guns for Scarborough head, at the mouth of the Columbia river, on the Washington shore, have arrived here and as soon as the excavation has been completed they will be put into position. The guns are of ten-inch bore and weigh 70,000 pounds each. They are companion pieces of the guns recently set up at Fort Stevens, on the Oregon shore, and, with those that are to follow, will make the fortifications at the mouth of the Columbia a formidable bar to the passage of a hostile warship.

Crisis Rumors Fall Flat.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Inquiry of leading foreign embassies and legations fails to confirm the rumors that members of the diplomatic corps have reached the conclusion that a crisis in Spanish affairs is near at hand and that several of the foreign representatives have notified their governments that war is inevitable. The rumors mentioned the French and British embassies as having advised their governments to this effect, but it can be stated positively that no such reports have been made from those quarters.

For a Monument to Victims.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Representative Cummings, of New York, Monday introduced in the house the following resolution: "Resolved, That the sum of $100,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the secretary of the navy for the erection of a monument to Fort Lafayette, New York harbor, in honor of the officers, sailors and marines of the United States war vessel Maine, who lost their lives in the harbor of Havana on the night of Tuesday, Feb. 15, 1898."

Barnett's View.

Havana, Feb. 22.—Lieutenant-Commander Barnett of the survey boat Bache said to a correspondent of the Associated Press: "You want the facts. I can tell you that there are 95 chances out of 100 that the investigation will show that the forward magazine of the Maine did not blow up first, if it exploded at all, and that it was not the cause of the terrific consequences that followed. The condition of the wreck when first studied and a later careful scrutiny make this an almost absolute certainty."

Arrange to Move Troops.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The war department has concluded an arrangement with several railroads of the west by which troops can be brought to the Atlantic seaboard and placed at any garrison with the utmost haste. Should it become necessary to move large bodies of regulars or militia to the Atlantic the department now knows just what lines to employ and the facility with which troops can be landed at certain eastern fortifications.

Ships to Be Near Cuba.

Washington, Feb. 22.—In accordance with the administration's policy of being prepared for emergencies, the vessels comprising the South Atlantic squadron are now on their way to the Caribbean Sea, and orders have been issued directing the completion of repairs to the monitor Terror within forty-eight hours.

To Replace the Men Lost.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Steps have been taken by the navy department to fill the vacancies in the enlisted branch of the navy caused by the loss of most of the crew of the Maine. The legal quota is now about 300 short and arrangements have been made for the immediate enlistment of about that number of men.

DECLARE FOR BRYAN.

Resolutions by Southern Illinois Democrats at East St. Louis.

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 22.—The Democrats of the eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first and twenty-second congressional districts of Illinois met in Music hall Monday, with State Chairman J. W. Orr presiding. He explained the object of the meeting as being to devise plans for the coming campaign.

A committee of five on resolutions was named, and also committees to report on senatorial and congressional representation for the nominating conventions. Judge B. F. Burrows of Madison was elected president, George R. Graybill of Shelbyville secretary, and J. Milton Sheets assistant secretary. The committee on resolutions, through its chairman, Judge Farmer, submitted the following report, which was adopted without a single dissenting vote:

"Resolved, That this convention indorses the Democratic platform adopted at Chicago in 1896 in full and without reservation, and favors the renomination of W. J. Bryan for the Presidency in 1900.

"Resolved, That it is the duty of the Democratic party to place a ticket in the field for township and county offices in every township and county, and that candidates be nominated for such offices who are in sympathy with and who fully indorse said national platform.

"Resolved, That as a civilized people we condemn that policy of the administration which has so long permitted the cruel and inhuman Spaniards to torture, starve, outrage and murder the liberty-loving people of the unhappy island of Cuba, and we declare that to longer delay intervention by the United States to stay the hands of the assassins will render our country equally guilty with Spain, and will be a crime against humanity and civilization—a violation of the laws of nature, of God and man."

The senatorial and congressional committees submitted similar reports, both of which were adopted.

Canada Makes No Concession.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Representative Lewis of Washington, who has just returned from Ottawa, where he went to appeal to the Canadian government for some modification of the Canadian regulations requiring American miners bound for the Klondike to procure their licenses at Vancouver, Victoria, or Dawson City, says he found a feeling of intense hostility toward the United States, especially on account of the passage of the Payne-Frye bill, which is designed to prevent British vessels from sharing in the Alaskan carrying trade. There was no disposition to concede anything to the United States in the controversy and Mr. Lewis returned convinced that no concession would be obtained unless we made counter concessions.

Another Move on Lynchers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 22.—Attorney-General Ketcham went to Cincinnati Sunday, where he held a conference with Hugh McMullen, assistant counsel for the state in the lynching investigation, and Monday he went to Ripley county. It is believed in official circles here that there will be wholesale arrests soon on affidavits prepared by the state and signed by Gov. Mount, charging at least thirteen men with the murder of the five prisoners. It is intimated that one of the accused is a county officer, another an ex-county officer and all of them prominent and well-known citizens.

Denounced in the Reichstag.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—In the reichstag during the discussion of the army estimates, Herr Bebel, the socialist leader, deprecated a large army. The minister for war, Gen. von Gossler, replied, saying: "Herr Bebel appears to favor revolution, and he who does that is an eternal enemy. Should this enemy some day proceed to action, we should advance against him without hatred, but with the same sangfroid as against a foreign foe, and if Herr Bebel were the generalissimo I could only regret that in the interest of himself and his troops."

Monetary Reformers at Work.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 22.—The executive committee of the monetary convention has nearly completed its national organization. The committee decided that national and state organizations were necessary to the monetary reform movement, and a national committee has been formed of one member from each of the states. There are now about 600 men in the different states working with the executive committee, exclusive of the county organizations.

It Prevents Yellow Fever.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 22.—From Rio Janeiro, Brazil, it is learned that Dr. Sanarelli has met with great success in his work of preventing and curing yellow fever by his new serum. Dr. Sanarelli is at work in the fever infected districts of Sao Paulo.

Michigan Republican League.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 22.—The Michigan League of Republican clubs elected officers last night. Grant Fellows, of Hudson, was elected president; William A. Hurst, of Detroit, vice-president; Edgar J. Adams, of Grand Rapids, secretary, and Charles Waite, of Sturgis, treasurer. Fellows, Adams and Waite made speeches, radical in Republicanism and opposing everything not positively recognized in the old lines of the party. Retiring President Dingley was indorsed for president of the National League of Republican clubs.

Bad Wreck at the Crossing.

Bucyrus, O., Feb. 22.—A bad wreck occurred Monday afternoon at the crossing of the Pennsylvania and the Pittsburgh, Akron & Western in the northern part of this county. A passenger train on the latter road was pulling over the crossing when it was hit by a fast freight on the Pennsylvania. The day coach was struck in the center and completely demolished. All but a half-dozen passengers jumped. All of the six were badly injured, two internally.

Indiana Populists Meet.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 22.—Two hundred Populists are present at the state convention, and a state ticket will be nominated. Delegates met by districts last night to select a new state committee. Nine of the thirteen members are followers of the national committee and will control the organization.

Archbishop Cleary Is Dying.

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 22.—Archbishop Cleary, who has been ill for some time, is not expected to recover. The last sacraments of the church were administered Monday.

Has Our Naval Plans.

Washington, Feb. 22.—On what seems the best authority it is stated here that Senor Dupuy de Lome is in possession of the most detailed information concerning our navy and plans for defense.

During the last administration Mr. De Lome was given free access to certain departments of the navy and, it is stated, made drawings of all harbor defenses, with location of torpedoes and coast guns; made tracings of our ships, and secured the data as to their armaments, and even the plans prepared by the war college.

This information, it is said, is the basis for the claim made by Lieut. Sobral, until recently an attaché of the Spanish legation, that the strength of the American navy is well known in Madrid and that it is not regarded as formidable.

Ready for any Trouble.

New York, Feb. 22.—Nearly 100 telegraphic dispatches were sent out during the past twenty-four hours from Governors island, the army headquarters of the department of the east, to various points of fortification along the seaboard from Eastport, Me., to Galveston, Tex. It was learned that orders had been received on the island Friday night to send from Fort Wadsworth to Sandy Hook twenty men to clean the big guns in the fortifications there and to transfer considerable quantities of ammunition. The same orders brought instructions to send forty men from Fort Schuyler to Willets Point to clean the guns there and to overhaul the ammunition.

FOR YOUNG GIRLS.

Notes of Interest With Regard to Their Appropriate Clothing.

The spangled and beaded tulle and gauzes so highly favored for evening gowns and the jeweled trimmings which are equally fashionable are not worn by young girls—at least by those who dress according to the most elegant taste. Simplicity is the keynote of their attire, a simplicity which accentuates their youth and freshness. The time will come all too soon, when complexion, features, manner and expression will proclaim that the morning of life is past, and it is inadvisable to cut youth unnecessarily short and to give a girl fresh from school the appearance of a woman of 25. Soft satins, plain or simply embroidered tulle, gauze and mousseline de soie and light, striped or flowered silks having printed designs are the suitable materials for young girls, and the trimmings should be ruffles of gauze, ribbon belts, bows and sashes, Marie Antoinette fleches and simple flowers, rather than lace, passementerie and embroidery. As to colors, white, cream, pink, blue and green are admissible, but not mauve or lilac, the latter being reserved for older or married women.

REMBRANDT HAT.

In France the engagement ring is worn upon the third finger of the right hand, and sapphires are the stones usually chosen for it, as sapphires have the reputation of insuring good fortune and exerting a generally beneficent influence upon the fate of their possessor. Combined with diamonds they form the conventional French engagement ring.

A red nose, which is often a much bewailed misfortune in young girls, is usually caused by too tight clothing or by cold feet—that is, by imperfect circulation. Plenty of exercise, which keeps the blood in movement and stimulates digestion, and clothing sufficiently loose to allow freedom of motion are the best preventives.

An illustration is given of a hat of black felt in the Rembrandt style. The brim is cut in severe square tabs, which are bordered with a ruche of black satin. Around the crown is a torsade of black satin and black velvet, inside which is another torsade of white satin ribbon, which forms a bow at the left side, with a chou of black velvet which holds two upright plumes, one white and one black. Under the lifted brim are a white and a black tip and a white and a black chou of velvet.

EVENING GOWNS.

Fabrics and Accessories Most Highly Favored by Fashionable Authorities.

A great deal of crepe de chine is worn, both plain and embroidered. The exquisite embroideries on this fabric which come from the extreme east are again utilized by fashion, and the delicate oriental workmanship is converted into a decoration for modish gowns.

Berthas and other fluffy finishes for low necked bodices having been favored for what fashion managers consider a sufficiently long time, plain bands are being introduced, the décolletage being cut severely straight and edged with a flat application of lace or a strip of ribbon or velvet. Of course only the most perfect neck and shoulders can stand such a test of beauty, therefore the absolutely plain style will not be universally adopted.

Net covered with chenille dots is much liked for evening gowns. The dots are large and are raised above the surface. Sometimes they decrease in size upon the skirt as they approach the waist, the dots being graduated upon the goods to produce that effect when the fabric is made up.

Combs, large and tall, of a style approaching that worn by our great-grandmothers, are again in vogue and are eagerly adopted by Parisian women. For the street plain tortoise shell or amber shell, undecorated, is chosen, but for evening the most striking metal and jeweled effects are seen. The plain shell comb without even carving forms a portion of some of the newest evening bonnets, serving as the foundation which supports and holds in place the airy structure of ribbon and flowers which forms the bonnet proper.

The picture given today shows a ball costume entirely of white mousseline de soie over pink satin. The skirt is covered almost to the top with little hemmed ruffles, and around the hips are four tiny puffs. The blouse bodice is encircled by two puffings and by two ruffles forming a berth. The belt is of ruby velvet, fastened by a jeweled buckle. White ostrich tips are worn in the hair. The same gown may be made up over white, mauve or yellow lining, the color of the belt being changed to harmonize.

GOLD AND KNOWLEDGE.

These Are the Things For Which Mrs. Crane Goes to Alaska.

Mrs. Alice Rollins Crane, who is now on her way toward the goldfields of Alaska, goes there for a threefold purpose. In the first place she goes as an accredited commissioner of the bureau of American ethnology of the Smithsonian institution. In the second place she goes as a magazine writer, with pen and kodak in hand, and thirdly she goes as an argonaut, looking for a golden fortune. Mrs. Crane is a distinguished member of the Southern California Academy of Sciences and is, besides, a writer of ability and a student of Indian life and folklore.

"I have no fixed or definite plan," she says, "aside from my intention to go into the heart of the Alaskan wild, and see all that is to be seen and hear all that there is to hear. If what I see and what I hear enable me to grasp a fortune from the store of hidden wealth along the streams and rivers and among the mountains, I will not complain.

"I will be frank enough to confess to a theory or belief—call it which you will—that is an incentive to my desire for adventure. For years I have lived among and studied the lives and customs of the Indians in California, Arizona, New Mexico and old Mexico. It has been my good fortune to come to know an Indian as he knows himself. This knowledge has taught me that what a red man does not know of nature's secrets is hardly worth knowing. If the beds of Alaska's water courses are paved with nuggets of gold, you may rest assured that the fact has been known to the Indians of Alaska for generations. If they know it, I shall know it, and knowing it will profit by the knowledge."
